

It takes 21 days to form a habit.

Is your agency ready?

Form a habit you won't want to break! Take the 21 Day Challenge and implement Real Time at your agency.

Some experts claim it takes 21 days to form a habit—and break old habits. With our 21 Day Challenge, your agency staff has an opportunity to adopt new workflows to leverage real-time technology tools for sales and customer service. It's free—and it's fun!

Real Time means you click on a button from a client file in the agency management system or comparative rater for immediate access to carrier information on that client. This approach provides one workflow for service or quotes.
